

RYA Training Centre Recognition - Consultancy

Following the introduction of the Introduction to Personal Watercraft Safety Course by the RYA and PYA there is a need for Superyachts seeking to train this new course to both have suitably qualified Instructors on board and to be a RYA Recognised Training Centre.

Paul Glatzel of Powerboat Training UK is a RYA Superyacht Centre Inspector and a RYA Personal Watercraft Instructor Trainer and has worked with a number of yachts in the Mediterranean to achieve this recognition - most notably the first yacht recognised as a Training Centre, MY Kogo.

The benefits of subcontracting this work are many but are most notably the assurance for the Management Company and Captain that the procedures put in place and the documentation created are absolutely best practice coupled to the efficiencies of allowing someone else to manage the interaction with the RYA and the Centre Inspector and to spend the time preparing the required processes and documentation.

To discuss your yacht's needs please call or email us.
